Overview

- Principle
- Tone of the Speech
- Storytelling
- Demo
- About Passion
- Slides Tips
- Practice makes perfect

Background

Principle

That makes a talk impressed yet valuable

Highlights matter

Tell stories

Repeat

Tone of the Speech

Flow, Rhythm & Emotion

Speed

Volume

Pause

It helps

- Highlight things worthy to be remembered.
- Build up the emotion/ Add color.
- Make the audience listen.

Storytelling

Observe good storytellers, and learn from them.

- Embrace Conflict
- Fun
- Personal Experience

One reason: Scale && Performance

Nebula is highly performant yet linearly scalable as it's designed in a shared-n
Capable of dealing with hundreds of billions of vertecies and trillions of edges level latency.

Small and medium businesses may have similar problems to big tech companies. But should never assume they need to use the same solution. The answer is not always a shiny new library, a complicated frontend build process, or the latest orchestrator. It is all a matter of scale.

Impostor Syndrome

From my own experience

👉 <https://note.siwei.info/distributed-bugs-are-often-latent-a-troubleshoot-story/>

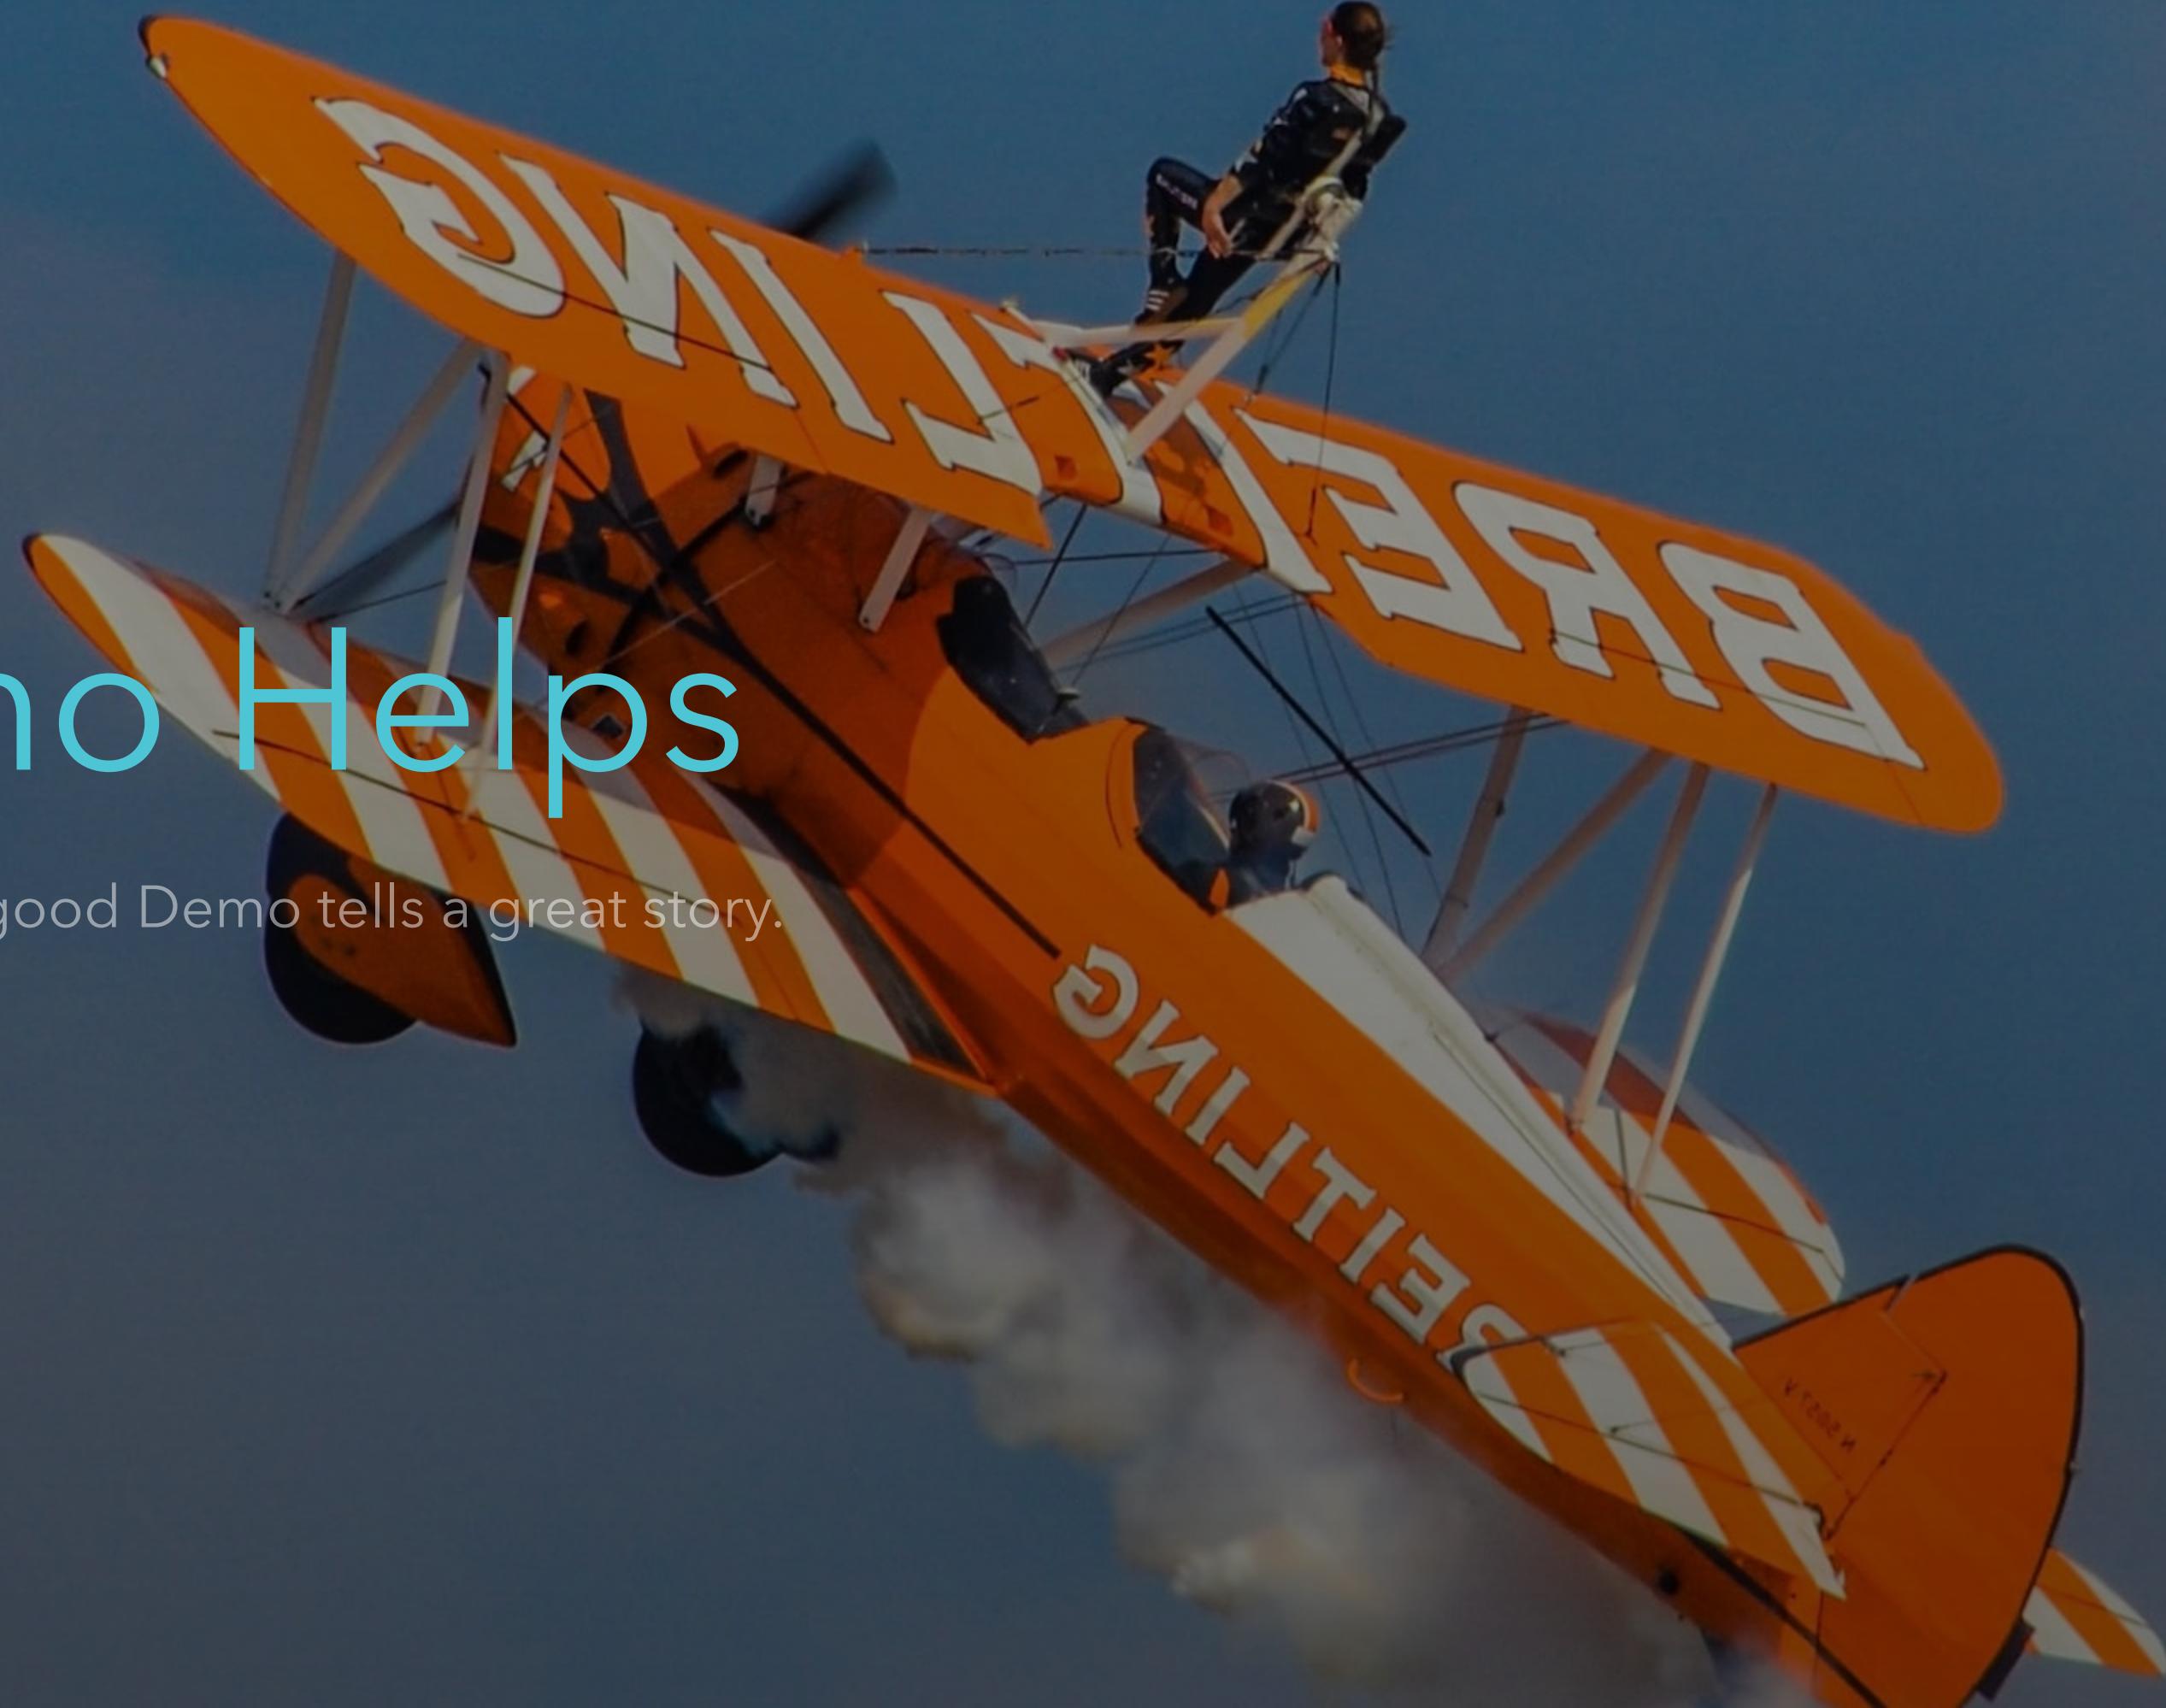

Language Learning coachWithBlahBlah

My own Story

Have fun, and repeat/practice in lower cost.

Demo Helps

Sometimes a good Demo tells a great story.

Passion

Accomplishments don't speak for themselves, Passion does

Slides Tips

- Design principles: The non-designer's design book
- Tooling
 - unsplash, OpenAI Dall-E/Stable Diffusion
 - Sli.dev

A close-up, low-angle shot of a person's hands playing a dark wood Baldwin grand piano. The brand name 'BALDWIN' is visible on the piano's lid. The lighting is dramatic, with strong highlights on the keys and hands, while the background is dark.

A cliche: Practice makes perfect

"Wey, you are really excellent at this
